For the lady who drives a taxi

Mama doesn't have a meter on the car, but she'd be rich if she did. Because it's fit, fit, fit, all day long—cheerful The Man down to work... scoop up The Lady Next Door for a spin to the supermarket... whisk Susie off to school... taxi five passengers to the Garden Club luncheon... drive Aunt Nell to the dentist... get The Man... and, after supper, pick up the girls for Daddy's hold shower.

A full day in tense traffic. And that's when a lady learns to love her Chevrolet... for the extra-light ball-bearing steering, the panoramic windshield, the heavenly low-walled trunk that swallows virtually any package, those broad seats, those sure-footed brakes. For when a lady drives a "taxi" she thanks her stars it's a Chevrolet.
